GERMANY AND ENGLAND.

An English resident in Germany contributes the following to the "Fall Mall Gazette":

The eyes of all German Imperialists are fixed with a peculiar anxiety on Great Britain just now. Needs there to say, the apparently set purpose of this country to diminish its defensive and offensive land and sea-power is accepted—with hardly concealed satisfaction—as a further indication of that decline in national vigour which German political students have for some time included in their calculations for the future.

I cannot better suggest the picture which we present to this penetrating people at the moment than by quoting the recent observation of a German friend—a man whose words are sometimes echoed in this country—during his visit to our shores. He said, "I am afraid that the 4th day of July 1906, are to send partisans thence before the 22nd of August, to the undesignated, the solicitors for Wilhelmine Harriet Sadler, the administrator of the estate of the said deceased, acting under letters of administration granted by the principal Probate Registry on the 11th day of September 1906. After the said 22nd day of October 1906 the assets of the said deceased will be distributed, having regard only to the claimants then received."

Dated this 1st day of September, 1906.

THE BRUNSWICK DUCHY.

THE COLDSTREAM GUARDS.

INSPECTED PRIOR TO DEPARTURE.

(Gazette's Special Service.)

LONDON, Wednesday.
The third Battalion Coldstream Guards were inspected yesterday previous to their departure for Egypt on Saturday. No troops could have presented a finer sight than this famous battalion which has been doomed to disbandment, and there were many hopes expressed that the indefinite postponement necessitated by their going to Egypt, where it is unknown how long they will remain, will save them.

DUKE OF CUMBERLAND'S POSITION.

BERLIN, September 26.

The Duke of Brunswick has passed a resolution inviting the Duke of Cumberland to sink his claim to the kingdom of Hanover and assume the rulership of the Duchy. (Reuters.)

The Duke of Cumberland is the son of the second Duke, who was King George V. of Hanover, fourth brother of the Duke of Kent, the father of the late Queen Victoria. He is married to a sister of Queen Alexandra.

The late Duke of Brunswick was Wilhelm I., born April 25, 1806, the second son of Duke Friedrich Wilhelm and of Princess Marie of Baden; he ascended the throne April 23, 1831, and died October 18, 1884.

The heir to Brunswick is the Duke of Cumberland, excluded from the refusal to give up the claim to the throne of Hanover.

The dead Duke of Brunswick was buried in the church of Wilhelms I., was long one of the most ancient and illustrious of Germany's Confederation. Its ancestor, Henry I., Linn, possessed, in the twelfth century, the united duchies of Bavaria and Saxony, with other territories in the North of Germany, having founded to the Emperor Friedrich Barbarossa in his wars with the Pope, he was, by a decree of the Diet, deprived of the whole of his territories, with the sole exception of his ancestral domains, the principalities of Brunswick and Luneburg. These possessions were, on the death of Ernest the Confessor, divided between the two sons of the latter, who became the founders of the lines of Brunswick-Lüneburg, Eider Line, and Brunswick-Luneburg, Younger Line, the former of which was represented in the ducal house of Brunswick, while the latter is merged in the royal family of Great Britain.

The Brunswick regency law of February 16, 1793, enacts that in case the legitimate heir to the Brunswick throne shall be absent or prevented from assuming the government, the Council of Regency, consisting of the Minister of State and the Presidents of the Landtag and of the Supreme Court, shall carry on the government, while the German Emperor shall be the commander of the military forces in the Duchy. If the right hand also the space of a year, 14 months to claim the throne, the Brunswick Landtag shall elect a regent from the then reigning members of German regiments.

The coronation of Sidi Gaber will be held to-morrow evening at Sidi Gaber, Ramleh, where a large number of natives of Alexandria and the neighboring villages will attend the ceremony. The service will be continued until the fifth (October).

SAFETY VALVE

Mr. Nestor Gruber, who has been appointed as manager of the Nile Valley Company, has moved to Egypt. This shareholder is to be ingratuated upon having secured his services, and the development of the property should now show marked progress under his able management.

CREW OF CAIRO POLICE FORCE

It is stated that an increase is contemplated in the number of men of Cairo, arabs and christian, in view of the increasing population which is proportional to the standing force of 2,000 police. The Ministry of the Interior has applied for a new credit to carry out this increase.

WAKER AND MAIMARADJI, LTD.

Waker and Maimaradi will open a new branch at San Stefano on Saturday afternoon for the benefit of their Ramleh clients. The service at this branch will be on no way inferior to that of the well known main stores and it is trusted that their custom will continue to support them by taking advantage of the new stores.

CORTON Memorial Church.

An article pointing out the bad impression left on the Moslem mind in the Sudan by the non-completion of the Gordon Memorial Church at Khartoum recently appeared in the "Record." The Deacons of Grafton have since intimated to the editor a subscription from her relatives to the Comte de Noailles. The Sudan has expressed much pleasure at the contests' action, and has suggested that subscriptions be remitted to Major Philippe

de Saury, Secretary, Kharoum Church Fund,

Khartoum.

THE GORDON MEMORIAL CHURCH.

The Comte de Noailles will again be at the Alamein Theatre, Alexandria, this evening, on which occasion Signora Giuseppina Calligari, who takes the rôle of the French

Mme. de Staél, will take her bow! The play will be followed by a pantomime on the fourth act of "Hercules." On Friday the theatre will be closed for the Jewish holiday and on Saturday

the Turkish troupe will make their debut.

CRETAN INSURGENTS.

TURKISH DEPARTURE HINDERED.

BRITISH SAILORS LAND.

CANAE, September 26.
Insurgents were assembled at Hellespont in expectation that Prince George would embark there. They broke through the cordon of the international troops and fled eastward. Some were wounded on both sides. The British cruiser Bathurst has landed bluejackets and ashore guns.

(Reuter.)

CANAE, September 26.
During the affray at Hellespont Prince George, our departure was delayed, insurgents wished to prevent it, was guarded by international troops at residence. He afterwards sailed for Athens in a Greek battleship unnoticed. (R.E.)

CANAE, September 26.
The Cretans attempted to prevent the departure of Prince George. The troops of the Powers fired, and the Cretans repelled. Two Cretans and a Russian sailor were killed. (H.)

ATHENS, September 26.
Prince George has arrived, and was much acclaimed.

PITH OF THE PRESS.

The Condition of the Indian Relyots.

We cannot agree with Professor Besley that the alleged improvement of India is a question which could be adequately investigated by a Royal Commission, unless their deliberations were preceded by years of patient historical research. But, if only because of the nefarious uses to which popular ignorance is turned by fanatical or unscrupulous agitators, we hold that the question deserves far more careful study than has yet been bestowed upon it. The result of such study, we are convinced, would show conclusively that British rule, far from having led to the impoverishment of India, has arrested or largely reduced every one of the evils which were still draining her wealth even a hundred years ago. If it has given India a new lease of life, it has done so against the interests of many foreign bodies from Central Asia, freedom from internal strife and turmoil, upright Judges, and an upright Administration, and, as a consequence of all this, security for life and property for every caste and race and creed, such as can nowhere be traced in the records of her checkered history before we gave power to her countless millions. ("Times.")

The Seditions in Bengal.

It is the duty of the executive government to see that every section enjoys the liberty and protection to which all subjects of the British Crown are entitled. Hindus must not be allowed to provoke Mahomedans either by insult or threats of violence; must be given no excuse for taking the law into their own hands. The criminal procedure code is not silent on the subject of sedition writing in the Press or editions speeches on the platform, and its provisions must be enforced. What, perhaps, is most important of all, people in England must understand that important measures against the activities of those who have been guilty of pernicious Anglo-Indian officials who have been made up with grievances of their own, to ventiate, carry with them their own retaliation. Quite on the other hand have been done already by letting it be supposed in India that these gentlemen were a floating the public at home to believe in the honesty and loyalty of the National Congress. ("Standard.")

Party Courtesies.

The autumn session has killed the usual autumn campaign. Liberal statesmen are busied with fiscal administrative work, and ex-Ministers have apparently nothing better to do than to quarrel over Mr. Balfour's past and to clamour for the MacDonald letters. Our mood is singularly friendly, and while Mr. Wyndham makes graceful speeches holding up Mr. Gladstone as an example to youth, the rest of us are looking forward with a kindly welcome to Mr. Chamberlain's reappearances on a platform. ("Tribune") temptations of the Peacock.

In order to live and die summarized in the present day a nobleman must possess at once a heart of adamant and a sublime contempt for poms, shillings, and peace. In his youth he must withstand all the siren of the music hall and the Gaunt stage. If he escapes them in safety, it is only to encounter in his more mature years the wily astuteness of the professional dealers, who move insidiously in polite society, and catch their prey unaware at the dinner table, in the drawing room, at fashionable restaurants, or yachting in the Solent. ("Truth.")

Germany and South Africa.

We can only be grateful to the Secretary of State for War for pointing out that the apprehensions of nervous people regarding the concentration of German troops in South Africa are baseless, for it is to be hoped that the utterance of this respected and reasonable man will make a deeper impression on those nervous minds than do the pamphlets and cartoons of the German press. If we had been hitherto refrained from setting forth very good reasons which would dispel the anxiety felt by Englishmen in an excessively distrustful disposition, it is because we did not think that they affected any but the very narrowest and unimportant article. ("Colombia Gazette")

Sir F. Lugard's Resignation.

The fact of Sir F. Lugard's resignation must inevitably direct attention to the various suggestions which from time to time have been put forward with a view to securing greater continuity, and, therefore, greater efficiency in the administration of our tropical possessions. Attention has been directed to the question of "continuity" not merely in our Colonial policy as a whole, but in meeting the needs of individual Crown Colonies and Protectorates, which in their physical conditions and existing institutions demand infinite flexibility and diversity of handling." ("Morning Post.")

Russia.

Very rarely we read that skeins of wild geese were winging their way southwards, from which it is surmised that the long Arctic winter has set in early. This morning we have rumours of a mysterious passage through Berlin and Vienna to the Black Sea. A Royal train filled with Russian Grand Dukes and their families, which if true suggests that their autocratic northern houses are no longer habitable. Whether it is true or not, the chaos in Russia seems to get more hopeless day by day. The General Officer Commanding, Mr. Clever G. Montefiore, and Mr. Leopold de Rothschild, as representatives of the Jewish Board of Deputies, and the Anglo-Jewish Board of Deputies, have drawn attention to a telegram which has just been received from Russia, in which the Russian government in St. Petersburg more than two hundred persons were reported as having been shot and are being brought before a court-martial, on which are sitting as judges the very same men who took an active part in the terrible events which occurred in the city. The telegram further states that the authorities have issued a decree forbidding the entry of Jews into the country.

The market opened with a better tendency to-day, Southern Peas being a good feature with a rise of nearly three dollars. These leave off to night at 97½.

Americana.

The tone of American railway shares has been uncertain, particularly in the main quotations below last Friday's levels. Railings are the only point that have shown a buoyancy, Baltimore and Ohio have gained $1 at 78½, Baltimore and Ohio have gained $1 at 78½, and Union Pacific has lost $1 at 144 on last call.

The market opened with a better tendency to-day, Southern Peas being a good feature with a rise of nearly three dollars. These leave off to night at 97½.

Egyptians.

There is hardly any business doing in the Egyptian section, and as the market in Egypt is closed until Monday, this is not likely to be much revival until next week. National Banks are better at 26½, but Agricultural Banks are unchanged at 9½. The Detectors of the latter are 9½. The Corporation of Western Egypt have been in request, and are strong buyers at 2½ premium. Dairies close about the same as at 16½, and the Detader at 100. Dairies Sugar are unchanged at 2½. Delta Land and Investment, after being 3½, close better again at 3½, but Delta Preference Bearers are mentioned, being nominally 11½, while the Detader are supposed to be 12½. Egyptian Salt and Soda have been offered at 1½ with some response. Khedivial Mail Ordinary have changed hands as high as 26½, and Alysias Banks are quoted 1½ discount, and Union Fonciere are unchanged at 3½. The Bank of Egypt are a fraction harder at 3½, and Bank of Romania remain unchanged at 10½.

Mining.

The uncertainty regarding the prospects of money continues to restrict business in the

MONEY AND SHARE MARKET.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT)

LONDON, September 21.

The Money Market.

The Bank of England is now in a stronger position than it was last week, for although the reserve has fallen very slightly, it is higher than at this time last year, and the larger portion of the Autumn demand has been satisfied. It is thought probable that the gold coming forward from the various gold fields, amounting to four million pounds, will supply most of the further requirements, with some help from the Bank of France. The bold and noisy step taken by the old lady of Threadneedle Street in the recovery of gold has 78½/d. well above the outside market, 77½/11½ d. will have the effect of diverting the demand from her, and it is much more sensible than increasing the Bank rate, which unnecessarily disturbs other markets. Altogether, a cheerful view is taken of the money prospects. The discount houses are allowing 2½ for call money, and 2½ for "notice" money, and are charging 2½ to 4% for short paper, and 4½% for three months' bills.

Silver.

Silver has sagged a little during the week, but it is again firm, with quotations same as last week, 31½ spot and 31½ two months forward.

The Stock Markets.

In our last article we expressed the hope that the increased Bank rate would be effective in improving the monetary outlook, and thus affording to the stock markets the support they so much need. Unfortunately the past week has been even more hopeless, so far as investment business is concerned, than for some time past. Further large withdrawals of gold from the Bank for America, Constantinople, and Egypt have kept the better-class stocks in a nervous state, and it is feared that another increase in the Bank rate will be necessary before normal state of affairs can be realized. A very doubtful feature to-night has been the rise in the Bank rate to 5%, which had an immediate depressing effect upon the gilt-edged and home railway market. The consequence of these adverse in fluences on the Stock Exchange has been extremely slight, and prices all round show substantial declines.

Yesterday and to-day being Jewish holidays, the House has had a deserted appearance, and the tone of markets is quiet in the extreme. Continues.

The suspended market commenced with a sharp firmness, but the far less heavy drain on the Bank, and the improved rate in the rate of the Bank at Berlin proved too much for its resumption, and all the stocks have fallen away, Corus now being no better than 84½/-.

Foreign Bonds.

A rather feature of the foreign market at the beginning of the week was the strength of Russians, the Pairs at one time improving to 72½. Subsequently they were influenced by the depression in other sections, and relapsed, but they found up again yesterday, and close steady to 72, the strip of the new loan to sit at discount. Japanese are fractionally weaker.

Home Rales.

This section has had several causes for depression—though doubtless some dealers will say that home rails can usually, in these days, succeed in being miserable without cause. First of all, dear money is a bear influence, though not so strong as to affect the department of Railways and Canals, which is the chief department of the Great Western. If we had been hitherto restrained from setting forth very good reasons which would dispel the anxiety felt by Englishmen in an excessively distrustful disposition, it is because we did not think that they affected any but the very narrowest and unimportant article.
